

Red Cuba Won't Fall Soon--Dulles

LOS ANGELES -- (AP) -- ~~Allen W. Dulles~~, former director of the U.S. Central Intelligence Agency calls Cuba a 60-year-old problem.

"I think the economy of Cuba will slowly disintegrate but it's going to take a long while," he told reporters.

How long, he added, depends on how many millions of dollars Russia will put into Cuba.

It's strange, he remarked, that the Russians have developed no showcase for communism as, for example, in East Berlin.

Dulles said the problem of Cuba is not one covering the past six months or six years --
"it's a 60-year-problem."

"How is it that over 60 years the basis of democracy was so thin in Cuba that a bearded maniac -- almost -- was able to wrest it away from the free world?"
